

System Requirements

You can access the Secretary of State, Elections Division eLearn site from any personal computer that is connected to the internet. You just need a modern internet browser and a system that can run it. A broadband connection to the internet is recommended. The eLearn site runs through your internet browser and works with Microsoft Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Apple Safari and Opera.

The site should perform adequately on most modern personal computer systems; either in Windows or MacOS (if you are running MacOS 9, you have to run Mozilla version 1.3.1).

Although the eLearn site prepares the document or media files to be played in your browser, the actual display or playback is handled by various types of browser plug-in software, primarily Adobe Acrobat, Adobe Flash, Apple QuickTime, and/or Windows Media Player. If you do not have these installed you may be prompted to go and install them to your browser. These pieces of software are generally free, easily installed and widely used so this will only be an issue for small numbers of users.

If you have questions about these browser plugins or your system configuration, please check with your local Information Technology person.

Here is a list of the sites where you can obtain the latest version of the browser plugin applications used by the eLearn site. Just click on the graphic or link below to go to these sites:
